Nease Chemical Company Begins Operations

New Factory Is Completed

Production Starts On Trial Run Basis

Salem's newest industry, the Nease Chemical Co., has begun semi-operation at its new $1 million plant on the Benton Rd.

Plant Manager Ron Smith and five other workers are currently making trial runs, checking the efficiency and operations prior to full-scale production.

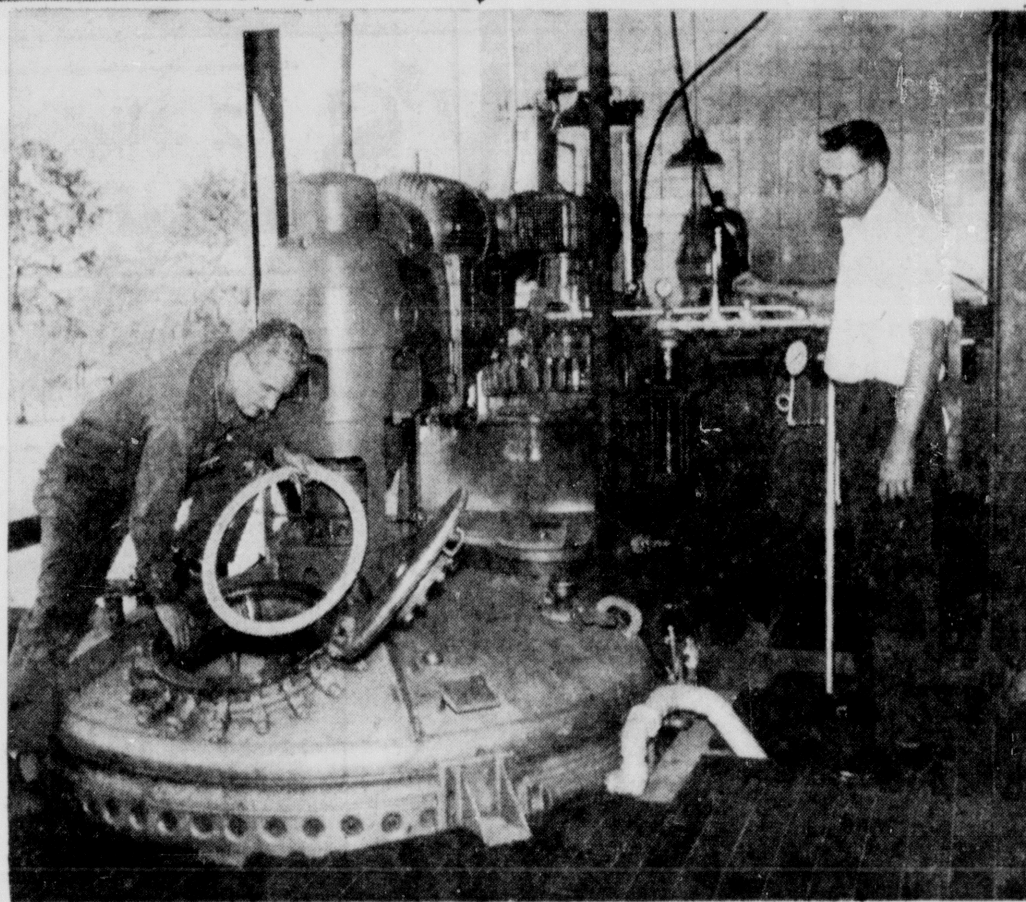

Smith said these trial runs probably will take about one month. "We hope to be in full-scale operation within a year," he stated. "By that time we should have all units in, plus some expansion."

The manager said the plant expects to employ at least 30 persons once production is under way.

Three local operators are now employed. In addition, three men came here from the Nease Co. factory in Lock Haven, Pa. They are Smith, his assistant Ed Pannier and one operator.

Smith said that all additional workers will be hired from this area. Both Smith and Pannier have moved their families to Salem.

THE SALEM AREA INDUSTRIAL Development Corporation played a large part in bringing Nease Chemical to this city. "We

Leetonia May Take Action On Trailers

LEETONIA — Village Council met Wednesday evening and proceeded to take under consideration an ordinance banning house trailers in the community.

There are only 10 trailers here at present time. The subject is to be studied by the health and sanitation committee.

Nearby Columbiana adopted a similar ordinance earlier this week.

Solicitor Edward Greenamyre is to get a ruling from the state attorney general in regard to workmen's compensation for part-time employees.

A request for a salary raise by Mike Cross, caretaker of the village dump, was referred to the finance committee.

Mike Burick, village clerk, reported that $1,042 in gasoline excise tax has been collected since the Oct. 4 meeting.

A warning is being given to citizens to stop burning leaves on the improved roads in the village because this damages the surface. Further action will be taken if the warning is not heeded.

Council voted to commend Rev. William Woodall and Jack Ripley for publishing the village paper.

Members present were Elby Morris, council president, who acted in the absence of Mayor Ralph Kennedy, Joe Weikart, Dan Cullinan, Oren Deffenbaugh, Chester Whitacre and Dale McCormick.

U.S. Troops Cross River In 'Attack'

BERLIN (AP) — U.S. troops crossed the River Havel in helicopters and amphibious vehicles at daybreak today in a mock attack during the second day of their fall maneuvers.

Nearly half the 6,500-man U.S. garrison in West Berlin is in the Grunewald Forest to test their combat readiness.

Despite being confined to the city limits—all the surrounding territory is sealed off by the Communists—the Army managed to provide variety.

The exercise, "Ever Ready II," is under the direction of Brig. Gen. Frederick O. Hartel, commander in Berlin, and a staff of umpires. Emphasis is placed on squad and platoon tactics in attack and defense.

The sound of shots and the crash of breaking glass marked another restive night along the Communist-built wall dividing the tense city.

West Berlin police told of the shooting and of spotting flares sent aloft in the East Berlin zone across the River Spree from the U.S. sector but could not see the targets. It was assumed that the East German police were hunting would-be escapees.

Ear Specialist Is Awarded Nobel Prize

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — The 1961 Nobel Prize for medicine was awarded today to Dr. Georg von Bekesy, Hungarian-born ear specialist now working in the United States.

The prize amounts to 250,200 Swedish crowns—$48,300.

Von Bekesy, now working at Harvard University in Cambridge, Mass., was awarded the prize for "his discoveries concerning the physical mechanisms of stimulation within the cochlea," said the official citation from the awarding body. The cochlea is a division of the labyrinth of the ear.

The award—first of this year's series of Nobel prizes—was given after a three-hour session of the Board of Professors at the Royal Caroline Institute, which makes the choice.

Von Bekesy started his career in Hungary as an engineer specializing in communication techniques and went on to physiological acoustics. Research in this field ultimately became his main interest and by the end of the 1920s he had made the discovery for which he now receives the Nobel prize.

At the end of the war he moved to Stockholm and from there to Harvard.

From a technical point of view Von Bekesy, 62, set out to prove his theories in a series of remarkable experiments, among others on the ear of a corpse.

Farmer Killed As Tractor Overturns

NEW SPRINGFIELD — Harry A. Bacon, 79, of Beard Road, was killed Thursday noon as the result of a tractor accident at the farm of his son, Oris, of the Pine Lake Road. He was dising a wheat field when the tractor overturned in a steep gully, caught fire and burned. The victim was pinned underneath.

Born Aug. 16, 1882, at East Palestine, he was the son of Henry and Celesta Shafer Bacon.

He worked as a caster at the W. S. George Pottery of East Palestine for over 30 years and retired five years ago. He was also a farmer and lived at his present residence for the past 55 years, coming here from East Palestine.

Survivors are his wife, Anna Gamble Bacon, whom he married Feb. 14, 1905; four sons, Darrel A. and Oris of New Springfield; Dr. Roy M. of Paulding; O. Edgar of New Waterford, and 15 grandchildren.

He was a 50-year member of the East Palestine Lodge, F. & A.M., was a member of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potter Local 31 of East Palestine, a member of the Farm Bureau of Mahoning County and was a former steward and trustee of Trinity Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Russia Renews Stand On Berlin Corridors

West Hits Superbomb Explosion Plan

Russia Suffers U.N. Defeat Over Nuclear Test Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and its Western Allies mobilized today for an assault on the Soviet plan to climax its nuclear weapon test series with a 50-megaton blast.

The forum was the General Assembly's top Political Committee, which begins debate on proposals for a nuclear test explosion moratorium after defeating Soviet efforts to have the test issue blanketed into the general disarmament discussion later.

The committee debate was expected to bring repeated calls for Moscow to call off the superbomb explosion. The United States and its Allies hoped the debate would marshal sufficient antitest opinion to force the Russians to reconsider.

Sweden already has indicated the mounting concern among U.N. members over the Soviet announcement by appealing to the Kremlin to reverse its decision to touch off the giant bomb before the end of the month.

The 101-nation committee wound up two weeks of wrangling over priority Wednesday night with two rounds of balloting that signified defeats for the Soviet Union.

The committee voted 83-10 with 4 abstentions to list as its first item India's proposal for a new voluntary moratorium on nuclear testing. The Soviet bloc and Cuba cast the negative votes.

The committee then approved a U.S. move to debate along with the Indian plan a U.S.-British resolution calling for a treaty to end tests under effective international control.

This vote was 54-13 with 31 abstentions. The Soviet bloc, Cuba, Mali, India and Senegal voted no. Most of the abstentions came from nations that took part in the recent Belgrade conference of so-called nonaligned nations.

Note In Reply To Warning Issued by West

Rusk Says Allies Will Continue Talks On German Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic sources said today Moscow has sent a note renewing a Soviet stand on Berlin air corridors that is unacceptable to the West.

The text of the Soviet note, delivered to the American, British and French embassies in Moscow, was not immediately available here.

Informants said the Soviet communication replied to Sept. 8 Western notes warning the Kremlin that any interference with the air traffic linking Communist-encircled West Berlin with West Germany would be "aggressive action."

Moscow was said to have declared again its view that the air corridors are only supposed to be used for supplying the Western garrisons in Berlin. The Western powers regard the air lanes as a vital lifeline for the city, to be used for general civilian purposes and otherwise without Red interference.

Not A Good Omen

The Soviet note was not regarded as a good omen in the simmering German dispute about which Secretary of State Dean Rusk spoke at a news conference Wednesday. Rusk, giving the first public U.S. government assessment of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's speech to the Communist party congress in Moscow, said he could pass preliminary judgment because the full text of the long Khrushchev address is still not available here. He declined to say whether it makes the prospects for peace better or worse.

Khrushchev's relaxation of his Dec. 31 deadline for his peace treaty with Communist East Germany, Rusk said, "may serve to reduce tension somewhat."

But Khrushchev's "general observations about the German and Berlin problems show little if any change from what has been said before," Rusk added.

Played Down Allied Rift

The secretary of state made a point of playing down the rift among the Allies in their approach to negotiating with the Soviet Union on the German question. And in doing this, in effect, he lectured against the French view that intensive Western preparations now for East-West negotiations would appear to the Kremlin as a sign of Western weakness.

Instead, Rusk served notice that the United States intends to continue its exploratory talks with Moscow to see whether there are

Reis Burglary Trial Ends In Hung Jury

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — The burglary trial of former chorus girl Lillian Reis ended with a hung jury Wednesday night after the panel was unable to reach a verdict on prosecution charges that she plotted a $478,000 theft, then used some of the money to purchase a nightclub.

Judge Charles W. Staudenmeier dismissed the panel of five women and seven men after it had reported for the second time it was hopelessly deadlocked. The jury, which had heard more than 40 prosecution witnesses and 5 defense witnesses during the five-week trial, had deliberated 18½ hours since receiving the case late Tuesday.

An unimpeachable source said that on the first ballot the vote was 6-6; then on the second ballot and at least 18 thereafter the vote was a steady 7 for conviction and 5 for acquittal. The source said that all five women were for convicting her in the Aug. 7, 1959, burglary at the home of coal magnate John B. Rich.

Miss Reis, 32, a striking brunette, stood without expression as she heard the jury foreman, Cora Thompson, tell the judge: "There is no change whatsoever; it is still the same as before."

Then Staudenmeier, who presided over the trials of three men convicted in the burglary last spring, told the jury: "This is something we regret, that you are unable to arrive at a verdict. All the court can do for its part is to explain the law. The jury must find the facts. You are discharged."

Miss Reis, who was released in $15,000 bail, told a newsman she felt she should have been acquitted.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Calvin Friedberg, the prosecutor, said that he assumed Dist. Atty. Robert Harris intends to retry Miss Reis on the burglary charges.

Harris' term expires at the end of this year, and he is not seeking reelection. The next term of the Schuylkill County Court is Nov. 6.

Testimony on whether or not a special election should be held in Franklin Township on a proposal to merge Franklin with Carroll County school districts was being presented in a mandamus hearing today at Lisbon.

Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard was hearing a group of witnesses—starting with Ben Weingart, member of the Columbiana County Board of Education—as the hearing continued on a petition filed for a court order for such an election.

Fred Johnson of Summitville filed the petition, which in effect seeks to dissolve the Aug. 15 consolidation of Franklin Local and Southern Local school districts.

Atty. William Allmon of Carrollton, counsel for Johnson, claimed in his opening statements Franklin residents had previously sought merger with Fox, East and Augusta school districts in Carroll County, and that the Columbiana County Board "arbitrarily" moved to merge Franklin with Southern Local.

He said that in the two years previous to the recent consolidation, the county board had ignored Franklin residents and the Franklin School Board on the merger plans.

Columbiana County Prosecutor William Brokaw, representing the County Board of Education, denied the board had acted arbitrarily or that it had misled Franklin residents.

He pointed out the board's action on the merger Aug. 15 was followed by a 30-day period in which Franklin could have filed a remonstrance or a referendum petition, but had not filed such a valid petition.

Brokaw said Franklin residents and the board were aware of the impending consolidation with Southern Local for some time. He declared the merger was proper, and stemmed from a recommendation by an Ohio University survey team. He pointed out Franklin students have been attending

250 Persons Hurt In Chicago Blast

CHICAGO (AP) — Investigation teams sought today the cause of a high-impact explosion which demolished a cosmetic company's chemical mixing building, injured more than 250 persons, and shattered windows up to a mile away.

No one was killed in the West Side blast Wednesday, which destroyed a one-story reinforced concrete building used by Helene Curtis Industries to blend cosmetic chemicals. Authorities said they had reached no conclusion immediately as to the cause of the explosion.

Miss Michelmores Leaves Nigeria Peace Corps Girl Who Set Off Row May Be Reassigned

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—Margery Michelmores headed today for the U.S. Peace Corps' field headquarters in Puerto Rico and possible reassignment. The Nigerian government reaffirmed its support of the American youth group despite the row set off by the girl's postcard that went astray.

U.S. embassy officials escorted Miss Michelmores aboard a plane for London Wednesday night shortly after she had paid a courtesy call on Gov. General Namdi Azikiwe. A Nigerian statement said she expressed "her regret for her thoughtless act of last week."

Miss Michelmores, 23, offered to resign from the Peace Corps last Sunday after a postcard was found on which she had described living conditions in Nigeria as primitive. Students at the university at Ibadan where she had been training circulated copies of her remarks and demanded that the 37 Peace Corps members in Nigeria be expelled.

The Nigerian statement said Azikiwe "reiterated his continued support for the (Peace Corps) program and said he was convinced it will bring benefit to Nigeria."

A U.S. spokesman said Miss Michelmores would fly direct from London to Puerto Rico to discuss her future with leaders at the corps' field training center. He said she may visit her parents in Massachusetts later.

Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver said in Washington that the girl may be reassigned to another project. He said she "has not resigned from the Peace Corps, and we do not want her to."

The Foxboro, Mass., girl's eyes filled with tears as she talked briefly with newsmen prior to her departure from the country where she had arrived only 23 days earlier to teach English to African children.

In a halting, trembling voice she read a handwritten statement saying she had nothing to add to sentiments she had expressed earlier to Azikiwe and to students at the university where she had been in training with the other corps members.

"I am very sorry to be leaving Nigeria," she added.

Women's Fashions Finally Entering Age of Practicality

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Possibly for the first time in the history of womankind, fashion is entering an age of practicality — even though man had to laugh, prod, and finally shove her into it.

The nation's buyers who made the rounds of some of the best known couture houses Wednesday were promised the sensible age by springtime.

That's when the women's apparel introduced this week will be in retail stores.

Just putting the waistline back was practical for the garment industry financially; for men who ridiculed the sack, snickered at the easy-fitting dress and merely tolerated the semifitted suit have had a damaging effect on sales, manufacturers admit.

Thus, Adele Simpson, Luis Esteves and of course, Jacqueline Kennedy's couturier, Oleg Cassini, have, done more than nip the waistline in again, they've widened it all the way up to the bosom line.

To reemphasize that tiny waist, pint-sized Miss Simpson is also putting wedge-shaped shoulders on her customer. Doesn't looking physically fit have its practicality after an era of hunch-shouldered emaciated fashion models?

For sitting down with grace and poise, or sprinting after a commuter train, Miss Simpson of fers ever-so-sensible knee-free skirts. Deep pleats or gores make the ample room for getaways.

Other points of practicality are dark little blouses, little coat dresses to step into, and polka dots so gaudy you can't be overlooked.

A back zipper you can reach because it travels down the shoulder blade, not the spine, is Luis Esteves' contribution to practicality. His entire spring fashion collection is frothy, wispy and conducive to romance with silhouettes that are more than forgiving fitting. For the sake of customers who do not have nice forms to fit, Esteves sends them dresses with built-in foundations.

Little tailored dresses are the sensible contributions of the first lady's personal designer, Cassini. Of course, these costumes go in and out where they ought to even though the kind he designs for Jacqueline often do not.

Enrollment Jumps In Ohio Colleges

CLEVELAND (AP) — Enrollment in Ohio's 52 colleges and universities this fall jumped to 191,200, a 4 per cent increase over last year's 183,665, according to statistics compiled by Robert E. Mahn, Ohio University registrar.

Mahn, here to attend the annual meeting of Ohio College Registrars at Fenn College today, said Wednesday the figures indicate school facilities are lagging behind the increasing demand by high school seniors to enter college.

Full-time Freshmen this year number 42,000, 5 per cent above last year, Mahn said, adding, "This is significant because the number graduating from high schools was about the same as last year."

He said a preliminary report showed the 29 state university branches in Ohio have enrolled 12,000, 2,000 more than last year. The Ohio University official said a survey of his statistics shows that a larger percentage of those entering colleges are staying for the full four-year term. He said this is because of tightened admission requirements.

Noting there was a 7 per cent increase in full time students over last year, Mahn said state institutions have about 46 per cent of full-time students, private and church-affiliated schools enroll 31 per cent, municipal colleges 12 per cent and Catholic colleges about 11 per cent.

It's Good When the Kremlin Stops

Once more, the Russian government has quit hitting the West over the head with a Berlin deadline threat. It always feels so good when the Kremlin stops. . .

Premier Khrushchev had the Western Allies and the allies of the Western Allies and the allies of their allies tied in knots with his year-end deadline for signing peace treaties with East Germany.

This was one thing he knew the Western Allies would not do, because the instant they recognized East Germany as the guardian of the access routes to Berlin they would be giving away their rights in their sector of the city.

They had no agreement with Russia that would permit it to make them do such a thing.

But even more important than the threatened loss of Berlin was the threatened loss of their honor as guarantors of the freedom of non-Communist countries. Surrender to the Kremlin's demands as relayed by a puppet government in East Berlin would be the signal to leave a sinking ship. The Western Allies and the allies of their allies all up and down the line would be trying to line up with the winning side. That's the way it is in a world of realism.

AMERICANS would like to believe the cold war is entirely ideological. They would like to believe it is being fought on a basis of principles. But the cold war is being fought on the same catch-as-catch-can basis as all balance-of-power struggles that have gone before it.

The Soviet Union, itself, cannot be sure of its ideological basis. Yugoslavia's Communism isn't the same as Russia's Communism. China's Communism is different from both Russian Communism and Yugoslav Communism.

But stripped of the ideological trimmings and trappings that have characterized all great power struggles, the "cold war" that is behind the deadlock in Berlin is basically a bid for allies in a worldwide struggle. It is the same kind of balance-of-power politics that historians have been describing for generations.

If there is a real difference, it is the willingness of the Western Allies to accommodate themselves to the dynamic pursuit of power by the Russian Communists.

They announce they will explode a 50-megaton nuclear bomb and the United States and its allies beg them not to.

They say they will forget about a year-end deadline for signing a peace treaty with their own puppet government and the United States and its allies thank them for not forcing a nuclear war.

They substitute mild words for harsh words and the Western Allies shout for joy and weep with gratitude.

It always feels so good when the terrible-tempered Mr. K quits hitting them over the head with his shoe. . .

BUT IT MUST not be forgotten in the meantime that the terrible-tempered Mr. K only has pushed the Berlin mess to the back of the stove temporarily while he heats up something else that shortly will have harassed Western leadership quivering at the lips and shaking at the knees.

Some think it will be Laos and South Viet Nam. They're good bets. But it could be a new place — something really smoking hot in Cuba, like a missile base, with some intercontinental ballistic missiles standing at the ready, cocked and primed for New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cleveland and Detroit.

By the time the Communists quit hitting us over the head with that threat, we'd feel so good when they stopped that we would be crying into their vodka with gratitude.

Psychology On the Way Up

One school of opinion about business holds firmly that production and consumption of goods are not geared to economic determinism—the materialistic point of view—but to psychology.

Members of this school, greatly outnumbered by economic determinists, preach that the ups and downs of business are as whimsical as a woman's moods for this reason. They cannot be foretold. They are matters of the moment. Whimsy has more to do with them than arithmetic.

The psychological determinists are usually heard from during slumps and depressions when suddenly, for no apparent reason, people turn skittish and lose confidence. But now they are being heard from when business is on the way up—a recovery that is beginning to be described as a creeping boom, lest someone get the idea it's a booming boom.

They are consulting their oracles and relics to find explanations for a strange reluctance on the part of consumers to rush out to buy all the consumer goods waiting for them.

IT IS UP to them to find explanations for the strange circumstance of enormous reserves of buying power in the form of savings. And if they can delve into another mystery, repayments of credit have been hitting new highs, far exceeding extensions of new credit.

Never did so many consumers have so much money to spend, yet they are not spending it fast enough to boost the economy into a boom. That prime comfort of the optimists in business—that what goes down must come up—has worked out just the way it was supposed to. All the foolish talk and sometimes deliberate misrepresentation of the Democratic Gloomy Guses a year ago about the sagging economy have been discounted by time.

But the cold fact remains that either consumers must start to buy at a stepped-up rate or manufacturers must start to check production to keep surpluses from piling up. And in all this, arithmetic and the formulas of economists are of no avail.

Popular psychology holds the answer—some element of caution in the minds of masses of people that restrains their well-known proclivity for enjoying the more abundant life.

The answer to the puzzle is not going to be found in textbooks on economics but in headlines, TV news bulletins, uncertainty about the shape of things day after tomorrow and uneasiness about the intentions of people whose thoughts are not known and not knowable.

Even meteorologists may know more about business than the determinists of economics, because hurricanes, unseasonable heat in some parts of the country and unseasonable cold in other parts can upset business prospects, as assuredly was true in eastern states last winter during severe snowstorms. Everything was ready but the weather. In much the same way, everything,

Good Hal'oween Fun

The Halloween parade and costume judging scheduled Oct. 28 is a Salem tradition. For many years the Charles H. Carey Post, American Legion, and local merchants have cooperated annually for an evening of merriment with all the color of a mardi gras.

It is a sensible approach to the Halloween season which in some cities is marked by vandalism. The season, however, gives no one a "license" to commit property destruction. Boys and girls again have been asked to confine their "trick or treat" canvassing of neighborhoods to Oct. 30 and 31 rather than making premature rounds.

Halloween is an enjoyable season in Salem, thanks to the splendid support of the Legionnaires and merchants and all of the good adults, many of whom marched as mummies in Halloween parades in the years gone by. In fact, you'll find some of them in the parade Oct. 28th night.

Once Over

It doesn't seem too long ago when folks did not live, blow-by-blow; Man got among somehow with man. Without a vast survival plan. Harsh hymns of hate were not widespread. The common cry was not "drop dead!" There was a time when man, they say, Could put his uniform away!

When vets paraded by the door They weren't home from last week's war; A boy returned from Timbuktu Was not home for one day or two. Canned eggs did not still seem quite near. . .

(The taste had time to disappear); A fellow over forty-three Got well-known to his family!

Man's home life wasn't bleak and bare Except for intervals more rare; His neighbors came to know his face. (He was no one they couldn't place.) "It's dad" the happy kiddies cried Without "Let's have it verified!" When he got home from global scraps No wife asked "Home for lunch perhaps?"

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Which came in first, the chicken or the egg, I don't know. But Jimmie Hoffa was a close second. Food has been the subject of much thought by James H.—the nation's food, I mean, all the way from growing it, raising it, processing it to, above all, delivering it. To get all this within the purview of his Teamsters union, Hoffa and his most eloquent aides have hit the hotel room circuit, most of them with a cigarette, a drink and an offer of a million dollars on their lips.

There were two such hotel room meetings almost a month apart — in Atlanta during the last week in August and in Montreal during the last week in September — when Hoffa reached secretly for control of two fields of food still eluding his union — chicken and bread.

It was in August that he dispatched an emissary to a small group in an Atlanta hostelry. He had called together some big poultry raisers. His word to them was that he was willing to spend a million bucks if they would organize the chickens of the land under the Teamsters Brotherhood banner.

WHEN LAST REPORTS were in, the chicken kings of the land still were considering his bid. If they come through, Hoffa would be able to add them to his leadership of hundreds of thousands of men in the canneries, the breweries, the egg farms, the dairies, the milk and bread delivery field, meat deliveries, fish deliveries, vegetable deliveries.

Hoffa's men are in vast sections of food processing and packaging. But there is one big hole in his network which covers the food "industry" of the land.

He does not have control of the men who actually bake the nation's bread. He wants it. He thinks so much of this jurisdiction that he took time out of heaving insults these past few weeks to pitch for control of the 65,000 - member Bakery & Confectionery Workers' Union.

This he did at the Mount Royal Hotel in Montreal on Sept. 28, it can be revealed here.

He dashed into that town to talk to the Bakery & Confectionery Workers' Union "B and C" Executive Committee. This is the organization which was expelled from the AFL-CIO convention back in 1957 on charges of unethical practices. Its old leaders shared the dishonors that day four years ago with the Teamsters.

AT THE HEAD of the "B and C" then was one James Cross. He and Hoffa are buddies. They both come out of Detroit. They both lived at the Hotel Woodner in Washington. Hoffa bolstered Cross.

Then early this year, Cross resigned from the "B and C." This came shortly after the U.S. Labor Department had discovered that someone had taken $35,000 from the union treasury on the pretext of lending it to a New York union — which never asked for the money, or received it.

Eventually the money was mysteriously returned — after word got about that the government was probing the itinerancy of the thirty-five grand.

It was at that time that a caretaker commie, headed by a vice president, Max Kralstein, was put in to run the union. Kralstein began reorganizing to clean it up and take it back into the AFL-CIO.

Once readmitted, the once-ousted union could merge with its counterpart, the clean American Bakery and Confectionery Workers. In all they would make up a force of 150,000 people who bake the nation's bread and sweets. But Hoffa wants that cake.

SOON KRALSTEIN was ousted as caretaker. Friends of Cross and Hoffa replaced him. They planned a long term of control. They set a convention for the end of 1962. The clean crowd went into court. A judge ordered this convention to be moved up to January. This annoyed Hoffa.

He flew into Montreal when that baking union's executive board was meeting. He told them not to join the AFL-CIO but to merge with the Teamsters. Then, said he, Hoffa would set up a Food Division. Together they would move in on all bakeries, all food processing, in fact.

If this union should merge with the Teamsters, Hoffa would be on his way to having it all his own way — from soup to nuts—everything that sits on America's tables.

Score One For U.S.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

JFK Wins First Cold War Victory

President Kennedy, in behalf the United States, has won his first victory in the "cold war."

When he met with Premier Khrushchev in Vienna last June, Mr. Kennedy said no "ultimatum" had been presented to him. Later it was disclosed that the Soviet premier left a memorandum with the President which was widely interpreted as an ultimatum—that before the end of this year the Soviets would sign a peace treaty with East Germany abrogating the four-power agreement signed after the close of World War II.

But now the Soviet premier announces that the plan for signing a peace treaty with East Germany will not be carried out this year and will be postponed. As so often happens in diplomacy, the premier decided to confirm Mr. Kennedy's earlier interpretation of the Vienna conference because it now seems expedient to do so.

This may sound like an unimportant detail and perhaps it is no proof of any fundamental modification of the Soviet viewpoint on the main issues of the current controversy over Berlin. But it is significant nevertheless of a change in the timing.

TO PEOPLE who are not familiar with the nuances of diplomacy and the crafty maneuvers that precede "negotiations," it will bring a sigh of relief. It does reduce tension somewhat. It shows that Mr. Khrushchev became convinced he cannot deal lightly with the American viewpoint or brush it aside and immediately sign a peace treaty with East Germany. The formalizing of such a pact has more meaning than appears on the surface. To sign a peace treaty between the Soviets and East Germans means the end, not the beginning, of "negotiations" with the West.

If, for instance, the Soviet treaty were signed, there would be nothing further to negotiate with Moscow. It would imply that everything had been left for the Allies to settle with the puppet government of East Germany. The Soviet government would then be taking itself out of the parleys altogether and whatever hopes it had for other "concessions" or new arrangements concerning, for instance, the Polish boundary, would have to be abandoned.

WHAT PROBABLY happened is that when Foreign Minister Gromyko returned to Moscow he reported that President Kennedy and Secretary of State Rusk were firm in their determination to resist any change in the status of West Berlin so far as rights hitherto granted the Western Allies are concerned and that the only hope lay in further talks.

What stimulates a feeling of satisfaction is that, despite Premier Khrushchev's big talk about the Soviet plan to test the largest megaton bomb ever developed, he is not making any moves that indicate he will really use nuclear weapons to force the Allies to agree to his views on the problem of Berlin.

In a broad sense, the whole world can derive the inference that, while talk of a big nuclear war still continues, it has not been given any real impetus by the speeches made or the events occurring on either side of the Iron Curtain.

WHEN ONE, concludes that President Kennedy has won a significant victory in staying the hand of Premier Khrushchev, it is important to note that this was brought about by a remarkable display of unity inside the United States.

Not only have both political parties supported firmness as the nation's policy, but public-opinion polls have reflected the refusal of the American people to be bluffed or intimidated by repeated mention of the horrors of war.

Instead, people have talked considerably about building "fall out" shelters and have indicated that, if war comes, they will face up to its realities.

Under these circumstances, it would seem logical to record that the President's policy of firmness, coupled with a sense of restraint and a willingness to go on talking, has had a favorable sequel—Mr. Khrushchev is now putting the "ultimatum" idea on the shelf and perhaps it will stay there indefinitely.

'Hurtee Much?'

By TRUMAN TWILL

My idea is that Russia has started World War III.

What it calls "nuclear testing" is "nuclear attrition," something like a Kentucky feudist firing a rifle into the corn patch where he knows the survivors are hiding. He can't see 'em, but he figures if he keeps firing long enough they'll get his message.

President Kennedy has made it known officially that Russia has fired even more nuclear blasts into the atmosphere than the 19 recorded by our detection apparatus.

Our public officials have made it known that the radiation count is rising rapidly. In some areas of the country fall-out from Russian nuclear tests already have lifted the level of radioactive iodine in milk and fresh food significantly.

We're getting the message. We hate to admit it, but it means that if no one has a change of heart the level of radioactivity could be boosted to intolerable levels and our corn patch would become uninhabitable.

We'd have a choice of coming out with our hands up and asking for terms, or getting plugged without a struggle.

But, asks someone, wouldn't we also have a choice of shooting back in the hope of hitting our assailants? What's to keep us from "testing" nuclear weapons in the upper atmosphere too and letting the fall-out come to earth we know what where?

It doesn't take genius-level intelligence to comprehend that this would compound the hazard for us as well as our assailants, there being no way to control fall-out of radioactive particles blasted into the upper atmosphere.

Get braced, though, or the announcement that the United States is going to do exactly that—compound the pollution of the atmosphere by shooting its own nuclear guns, to show the Russians a thing or two, by golly.

It will be the only way to save face and show the Russians no one is afraid of them; that will be the explanation.

But that explanation would make sense only if the United States really was "testing"—not just shooting into the corn patch at random, to match Russia's "nuclear attrition."

Russia's explanation about "testing" would hold water only if it needed a couple dozen blasts in the upper atmosphere to find out what it needs to know.

I think all it needs to know is where a high-level blast does the most good in terms of radioactive fall-out over the United States.

I think Russia is reconciled to the loss of millions of human beings, including many of its own people, if it can make our corn patch so uninhabitable we'll have to ask for terms.

It would do no good for us to retaliate; that would only compound the damage by putting more radioactive particles in the air. Russians never would hear about it, but Americans would—and the psychological damage would be as bad as the physical damage.

Anyway, that's my idea. World War III is under way. Those Russian fellows going through the motions of exploratory conversation are like those Japanese fellows who were gassing it up with Cordell Hull the day Japan slammed into Pearl Harbor. "So soydee. Hurtee much?"

Underscores Freedom of Press

On behalf of the members of Charles H. Carey Post of the American Legion here in Salem, I wish to take this opportunity during the observance of National Newspaper Week, Oct. 15-21, to express our appreciation for the great service which The Salem News has performed for our community.

We of the American Legion — men and women who have served in the uniform of our country during the three wars of the Twentieth Century — are well aware of the vital role a free press has in the perpetuation of our American ideal. This nation has come to its greatness on the foundation of a citizenry well-informed through newspapers free of governmental control and written and edited by courageously patriotic individuals.

The principals and goals of the nation's press and the American Legion are inseparable.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Insult To Guests

Dear Ann: What can be done about a hostess who insists on piling more food on your plate, even after you have said in plain English, "No, thank you."

Also, this woman's husband watches the cocktail glasses of every guest. The minute it gets down to half he insists on filling it up again. He actually pried my fingers off my martini glass last night to get it away from me and fill it up. I was very annoyed.

I say this is bad manners. My husband claims this is the mark of a gracious host and hostess, because some people are bashful and must be encouraged.

What is your opinion? — CARLA.

Dear Carla: A gracious host and hostess make their guests feel comfortable. This is not accomplished by pushing more food and drink on them than they want.

The people you describe sound like clods. It's insulting to a guest to assume that you must decide for him how much food or drink he should have.

Her Side Of Story

Dear Ann: About that letter signed "Sam" — from the husband who complained because his wife spent so much money and was such a lousy manager, I'm

Dear Ann Landers: My boy friend and I are both 18. We've been going together for several months. We used to double date with his brother and his wife a lot. Then she went into her eighth month and the doctor said she had to stay in bed.

Last night was Saturday and we didn't have anything special to do. We decided to visit his brother and sister-in-law.

When we phoned, Malcolm said his wife had gone into labor and he was taking her to the hospital. He asked us if we wanted to meet him over there. We didn't have anything better to do so we said yes. We were at the hospital about four hours and the baby was born.

When I told my mother about it the next morning she was boiling mad. She said that was no way for a young couple to spend an evening. I don't see anything wrong with it. Do you? —NINA.

Dear Nina: It depends on what you did at the hospital. If you sat with the expectant father and helped to take his mind off the long wait, then I think it was perfectly all right. If, on the other hand, you hung around the expectant mother, this is not my idea of appropriate teen-age entertainment.

About Meetings

Farm Bureau Session

The 43rd annual meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation will be held at Columbus, Nov. 13-15, according to Mrs. Evelyn Hoopes, county organization representative.

Willard Cope of Salem RD 3 and Allan Chamberlain, Leetonia RD 2, county representatives, will be among 2,000 farmers who will attend the meeting during which the official 1962 platform for the farm organization will be written.

County Farm Bureau annual meetings already are being held over the state as farmers write their local resolutions and forward their views about state and national issues to their Ohio Farm Bureau.

Meanwhile, the state farm bureau policy development committee, the group which will consider the thousands of policy suggestions from the counties held their first meeting Oct. 11, Mrs. Hoopes said.

Herbicides And Milk

Recent tests at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station show that residues from the herbicide CIPC will not appear in milk.

Conducted in the Departments of Dairy Science and Zoology and Entomology, the experiment called for known levels of the herbicide to be fed to dairy cows. Two animals were fed a high level of CIPC on three different occasions and six animals were fed lesser amounts in daily rations for four weeks.

"Milk taken from the cows fed at the high levels at 1, 2, 3, 4, 8, 12, 24, 48, and 72 hours after milking showed no trace of CIPC or its metabolite," reported Dr. George Ware, entomologist. Urine collections from these animals contained CIPC metabolites in diminishing quantities beyond 12 hours after feeding.

Milk collected twice weekly from the animals that had CIPC in the daily rations, he said, also showed no trace of the compounds.

Under normal use, CIPC residues up to one tenth the lowest amount used in the experiment would occur on a crop at harvest. "Results of the high level feedings," said Dr. Ware, "indicate that no reasonable residue on alfalfa at harvest could produce CIPC milk contaminants."

More Spillbugs In '62

Look for more spillbugs in Central and Eastern Ohio next year.

The annual fall spillbug survey conducted by entomologists of the Ohio Agricultural Extension Service and the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station shows adult spillbugs "extremely abundant" in Stark, Holmes, Coshocton, Muskingum, and Perry counties.

"These heavy fall populations indicate," says B. D. Blair, Extension entomologist, "that yields of forage crops in the Central and Eastern Ohio area next spring could be reduced considerably on untreated fields."

Jaycees to Hear Hays
At Newsboys Dinner

Congressman Wayne L. Hays will be featured speaker at a dinner meeting of the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Saxon Club tonight.

The Business Confab

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the great rituals of American life is the business conference.

The conferences are usually held behind closed doors to give them an air of secrecy. That is a great shame.

They should be thrown open and tickets sold to the public. For the average business conference has better acting and far more drama than an off-Broadway production.

In some offices they hold conferences weekly—some even have them daily. In others the boss merely calls them whenever he is lonely and feels like bawling out the staff.

If you have ever attended one of these office matinees, you probably remember some of these typical characters:

Statistical Syd—He shows up with an armful of charts to prove his points. Halfway through his presentation, he discovers he has hung the charts upside down. This makes no real difference to Syd. His figures read the same forward, backward, upside down, or sideways.

Bulldozer Bert—"What this firm needs is some real down-to-earth aggressive thinking!" He cries, thumping the table. Everybody nods. They're all in favor of aggressive thinking, whatever that is. They are also in favor of motherhood and the federal highway program.

Mumbo-jumbo Jack—He once read a book on psychology and never quite recovered. "It's about time we paid more attention to our social-economic public image and reconstructed our corporate contour psychically," he says. Everybody nods profoundly again. Why not? Why argue with a nut you can't even understand.

Gilbert the Gambler—"So we're losing money on tiddlywinks," he argues. "Let's diversify. Why not start making bowling balls? Item for item, there's a lot bigger profit potential in bowling balls than tiddlywinks."

Procrastinating Phil—When his turn comes he looks mysterious and says, "I pass for now. I'm working on something I think will solve all our problems, but I haven't got it in final form." Phil has used this same line so many times he is beginning to believe it himself.

Whereas Wilbur—The company lawyer never makes a suggestion himself. He is there for only one purpose—to arise and announce why the suggestions anyone else in the firm makes are legally impossible, plus being against public policy.

Doodling Dan—The boss' nephew sits and silently draws pictures of pretty girls on the pad before him. His plans are all made. As soon as he inherits the business, he intend to fire everybody and sell the firm to its biggest competitor.

Sylvester the Spouter—The sales manager is a master of glowing, push-button prose. "While our figures are down a mite this month," he says cheerily, "all signs indicate that next month will see a record." All signs point to a record all right—a record loss.

Omnipotent Oliver—"This confab got us exactly nowhere," says the boss, winding it all up. "The next time I call you boys in, you'd better show up with some real ideas—or there'll be some new faces at this conference table."

The session is over. The executives march out, firm confidence showing in every face.

Industry marches on!

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Pity the Wives of Alcoholics

Sometimes I get as provoked with advice-givers as some of my readers do with me. For example, a recent writer in the Quarterly Journal of Studies on Alcohol presumes to say that the wives of alcoholics can usually be placed in one of the four following categories:

The Suffering Susan whose need to punish herself is her dominant characteristic.

Controlling Catherine who is driven by an unconscious need to marry a man whom she feels to be inadequate or inferior.

Wavering Winnie whose chief characteristic is self-doubt and a need to be needed. And Punitive Polly, usually a career woman, who is rivalrous and aggressive with men.

Then, too, the article avers, there are the fiancées who believe that, once happily married, the husband will have no further need for excessive drinking; who may be displaying simple ignorance rather than an unconscious need for an alcoholic mate.

In these instances, it goes on, marriage itself "may hasten the progression of alcoholism." And, after marriage, the categorized wife may fight her husband's attempt to gain help and "knock the props from under him at all turns, seemingly needing to keep him ineffectual."

This column, being for family consumption, cannot be written as I should like to write it.

But if these views are a fair sample of the scientific studies being made on alcoholism, maybe we ought to call quits and make a fresh start. For, of all the long-suffering and abused women on earth, there are none to compare with the wives of alcoholics. And, as a matter of fact, no more long-suffering and abused males than the husbands of alcoholic wives.

Of course, the wife of an alcoholic may exhibit, at some time in her life, one or more of the characteristics of the women categorized by the writer of the article.

Driven to desperation by economic privation, shame, worry, lack of sleep, insecurity and concern for her children, she may try any and every device known to womankind.

And, when each of these fails, she may try the opposite. Kindness instead of nagging. Affection instead of coldness. Submission instead of aggressiveness.

But to shift the responsibility for a man's alcoholism to these devices and to state authoritatively that wives "break down quite rapidly" when alcoholics "achieve sobriety" has the same hollow sound to my ears as the speeches of Castro and Khrushchev when they label us the "aggressors" and "warmongers."

Jury Frees Man In Non-Support Case
 LISBON — A jury deliberated only 20 minutes before returning a verdict of not guilty in the non-support case of Donald Eugene Roberts, 34, of 416 Freeman Ave., Alliance.

Roberts was indicted by the September grand jury for non-support of his minor child but evidence showed he had been in jail five years and in a hospital three months during the time he was charged with the non-support.

Roberts had been in the county jail since he was unable to make the $3,000 bond.

The next criminal trial will begin Monday. It will be the first degree manslaughter case against Homer R. Williams of Chester, W. Va., in the death of Wilbert Willard Jr., of Tampa, Fla., in a fight in the Green Mill Tavern in East Liverpool June 4.

FINED AT SUMMITVILLE
 SUMMITVILLE — Two drivers were fined $10 apiece by Mayor Ernest Phillips Monday night for speeding and another forfeited a $15 bond for reckless operation.

All three were cited by Dep. Marshal Forrest Young.

Salineville High School in Southern Local for many years.

Over 25 Franklin and Southern Local residents along with school officials and others looked on the proceedings late this morning as Atty. John Bauknecht of East Palestine, co-counsel for Johnson, questioned Weingart on the background of the merger action by the county board.

Attorneys indicated the hearing would last at least through this afternoon. Judge Buzzard said he did not know when he would be able to issue a ruling, pointing out it would depend upon evidence presented during the remainder of the hearing.

Bauknecht said other members of the county board and some members of the Franklin Board, along with Johnson, would be called to testify.

Sitting with Brokaw at the prosecutor's table were County School Supt. James McBride and Atty. Don Elliott of Rogers, president of the county board.

Bauknecht asked Weingart if he knew the contents of the Franklin petition filed Sept. 15, asking the county board for a merger of Franklin with the Carroll districts. Weingart replied he had not read it — "I was not interested to that extent."

Weingart said his opinion had been that the eight-year Franklin district should be merged with Southern Local in order to form a strong, efficient school system, and to retain Franklin within the county system.

Bauknecht asked if the board took action on the Sept. 12 petition for an election on the merger, saying the petition represented 95 per cent of the Franklin residents.

Weingart said the petition was accepted by the board, but no other action taken.

Robert Longworth, Carroll County superintendent of schools, followed Weingart on the stand and was questioned by Atty. Allmon.

Longworth testified Carroll County had requested a survey of a merger of the Carroll districts with Franklin, and after a "cursory" study by state officials, it was indicated the State Board of Education might make such a full scale survey.

Earlier testimony indicated that the Ohio University team had investigated the merger plans of Franklin Local and Southern Local. Bauknecht said the team apparently had not considered any other merger.

Trucker Cited After Van Hits Automobile

Henry A. Maquar, 36, of Akron, was arrested by police for reckless operation following a car-truck mishap at the intersection of W. State St. and Howard Ave. at 5:35 p.m. Wednesday.

Police said Maquar drove his van truck through a red light into the side of an auto operated by Anna Ruth Cozza, 21, of RD 3, Salem, causing minor damage to the car.

Maquar is to appear in Mayor Dean Cranmer's court Monday evening.

new line without any sign of hesitation.

Western diplomats listening to the speech by Khrushchev were amused to notice Ulbricht "applauding his master like crazy after every period and every comma," the West Berlin newspaper B.Z. reported.

Ulbricht has serious difficulties within his own party as a result of the wall of concrete and abed wire he threw across Berlin in August.

East German papers admit more and more openly that there is vigorous opposition to the wall and to the atmosphere of Stalinist oppression in East Germany.

Moscow-trained, Ulbricht at 68 is an unconstructed Stalinist. His regime paid lip service to Khrushchev's abolition of the "personality cult" in the Soviet empire but never made the new line effective in East Germany.

3 Algerians Killed, 15 Hurt In 2nd Paris Demonstration

PARIS (AP)—Reinforced police checked a mob of 4,000 Algerians that tried to riot through the streets of Paris Wednesday night for the second night in succession. Three Algerians were reported killed and at least 15 injured, and the police arrested 1,500 demonstrators.

Ordered by the Algerian rebel government in Tunis to keep up their demonstrations against new curfew laws, Algerian workers began grouping shortly after dusk near the Rond Point de la Defense, a key traffic intersection at the western outskirts of greater Paris.

Between 1,000 and 1,500 were surrounded for a time by the heavily armed riot forces without serious incident. But as tension mounted in chilly, driving rain, demonstrators opened fire on a police car, a headquarters spokesman said. The police returned the fire, and hospital authorities in the suburb of Nanterre said 3 dead and 15 injured were counted.

One body lay sprawled in the rain among a scattering of shoes dropped by the fleeing mob.

Stout police barricades kept the mass of shouting demonstrators from reaching the heart of the city, but several hundred managed to slip through by subway or on foot. Crying "Algeria for the Algerians!" they tried to parade but were quickly rounded up and hustled into police vans, that chugged off to detention centers at a sports palace, a stadium, and in a barracks area in suburban Vincennes.

There they joined more than 11,000 of their countrymen arrested Tuesday night when 20,000 rioted for four hours. The government today began deporting about 1,500 of those arrested Tuesday to Algeria and said many more would follow.

Nease

The firm is headed by Dr. Aubrey Nease of State College, Pa., who is a native of Oklahoma and a graduate of the University of Texas.

THE SALEM PLANT replaces the company's factory at Lock Haven, Pa., which had to be vacated last spring because of lease expiration and difficulties over renewal of the lease.

Arch Bricker, president of the Salem Area Industrial Development Corporation, first conferred with Dr. Nease on May 25, 1960, after SAIDC learned that Nease Chemical Co. was looking for a plant site in eastern Ohio. Subsequent and frequent meetings followed.

THE LARGE TWO-STORY building was built on a 30-acre site the firm purchased on the Benton Rd. Construction of the building was completed recently by Bricker & Bricker of Salem, the general contractors. The electrical work was done by the Firestone Electric Co., also of Salem.

Dr. Nease said the Salem factory will become the main production plant for the company. The 30-acre site here includes sufficient space for anticipated expansion, Dr. Nease explained.

Huge glass-lined and stainless steel reactors and distillation equipment has been installed in the factory here.

Chemicals to the local plant will be shipped by rail and by truck. The main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad runs past the rear of the plant. Side tracks have been laid from the main line to Nease's storage tanks.

DISTRIBUTION OF the finished products will be principally by truck and shipped in drums and metal and fibre containers, Smith explained.

In addition to its new factory at Salem, Nease also has plants at High Point, N.C., Neosho, Mo., Fernald, O., (near Cincinnati) and State College, Pa.

The plant at High Point manufactures polyurethane foams. "Our prime target in Salem now is putting new production on scale. We expect to start up the last new section within three weeks," Smith said.

continued, "we are making plant trial runs prior to full production of an organic intermediate." In another month or two, after the moving around is completed and the parking lot is improved, the public will be invited to the plant for an open house celebration. Thomas Jefferson attained the presidency by a one vote majority in the electoral college.

Bobby Driscoll Starts 'Long Road Back' Onetime Child Movie Star Sent to Narcotics Hospital

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bobby Driscoll, a onetime child movie star who had everything he wanted and nothing he needed, is starting the long road back from nowhere.

Camel Driver Taking Naturally To Role As VIP

WASHINGTON (AP)—The happy camel driver from Pakistan is taking quite naturally to being a VIP.

Jet planes, flashing camera bulbs, sleek limousines and sights beyond his wildest dreams just bring a broader smile to Bashir Ahmad's moustachioed countenance.

Bashir smiles and smiles. He's amazed at how Americans are all smiling with him, too.

Unable to read or write his native language, Urdu, when he arrived in the United States as the guest of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Bashir has quickly learned about autograph seekers. Now, he painstakingly signs his name—a wavy line and a series of specially placed dots. You'd be surprised how many times he's asked to make his sign.

Bashir is so famous his wife back in Karachi says she's worried about whether she should welcome her husband back in their same hut after his visit to America. She's looking for a two-room house or a flat, reports from Karachi say.

And, Bashir's camel must be worried, too. It is refusing to eat. But none of these reports, relayed to Bashir on his American tour, can dim his enthusiasm for his adventure, which is unfolding in the best fairy-tale style.

Today Bashir, 48, in his black frock coat and white pants, sees the sights of Washington and lunches with the ambassador of Pakistan in his country's embassy here.

Bashir met former President Harry S. Truman Wednesday in Independence, Mo.

SERVICES SCHEDULED

CLEVELAND (AP) — Services for Mrs. Margaret Allman, 82, Ohio's first woman cabinet member, will be held Friday in the Spiker Funeral Home here. She died Tuesday in a nursing home after an illness of six months.

Mrs. Allman served as director of public welfare in the administration of the late Gov. Martin L. Davey, starting in 1935. She taught school in her native Massillon prior to her marriage to the late Walter H. Allman. Survivors include four sons, Carrell B., James P., Walter H. and Morgan, all of Canton.

41 GET PHYSICALS

Forty-one men left this morning from the Draft Board at Lisbon for Cleveland to take pre-induction physicals. Eight will leave Tuesday for induction.

Driscoll, 24, was committed Wednesday to the State Narcotics Rehabilitation Center at Chino, Calif., where he must spend at least six months.

"I am anxious to undergo the new narcotics program at Chino," he told Judge Allen Miller at his hearing in the psychiatric department of Superior Court. "I think I can find myself working with others who understand my problem."

Driscoll had been arrested recently on a bad check charge. It was another in a series of arrests—for disturbing the peace, brawling and narcotics violations—that began about seven years ago when his movie career started to fade.

Once Driscoll was making more than $50,000 a year. He started acting at 6 in "The Sullivans" during World War II. He won an Oscar at 11 for his role in "The Window" and usually was cast as a lovable youngster in such films as "So Dear to My Heart" and "Treasure Island." He has appeared in 30 movies.

What happened to him? Driscoll isn't certain, but he gave an explanation to newsmen outside the courtroom.

"I had everything," he said. "Working steadily with good parts. Then I started putting all my spare time in my arm."

"I'm not really sure why I started using narcotics. I was 17 when I first experimented with the stuff. In no time at all I was using whatever was available. Mostly heroin because I had the money to pay for it."

"I've spent all the money I earned, except what my parents have used wisely. I'm not sure how much exactly, but I'm certain it's been considerably more than $100,000."

He is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Driscoll of Mar Vista, Calif. His father is a real estate broker. Young Driscoll was married in 1956 to Marilyn Jeanne Brush. They had three children.

"My wife and I have been separated for more than a year. There's no chance of a reconciliation. I just hope that someday I will be considered fit to have custody of my son."

"I want to act again," he continued, "to become a credit to myself and to my family, to pick up where I dropped off seven years ago. I know I can."

In an effort to make individual income tax reporting, if not painless, at least simpler, the Internal Revenue Service has revamped Form 1040. The new, two-page Form 1040, shown above, combines the better features of the first two pages of the 1960 Form 1040 and Form 1040W, which has been discontinued. Improved printing techniques have also enabled the service to revise the format of the instruction booklet. Instructions are now arranged in a sequence to match the lines on the Form 1040. Unnecessary technical language and phraseology has been eliminated. The simplest form of all, the punch card Form 1040A, will still be used by those who prefer it.

In December, 61 million packages of instructions and forms will be mailed, aimed at providing each taxpayer with the simplest form he can file.

Calculating Machine Errors Hike U.S. Military Aid Cost

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Accounting Office said today miscalculations by both human and electronic brains were partly responsible for what it called a multimillion-dollar excess cost of military aid to the Far East.

The GAO, which serves as a watchdog over government spending, said it had come to this conclusion after investigating nearly half a billion dollars worth of spare parts accumulating in Asian warehouses and at the Army's big supply and inventory depot in Japan.

In its report to Congress, the GAO said its survey resulted in potential savings of about $235 million in excess or useless spare parts.

Another GAO report Wednesday said improper wiring of a calculating machine had led the Army in Europe to order $7.4 million worth of material it didn't need.

In today's report, GAO accountants said the depot in Japan last year had "discovered" unrecorded material valued at $58 million in making its "first complete inventory ever taken" of military aid stocks. Meanwhile, the GAO said, additional supplies of the ordnance equipment had been ordered. The alleged error was attributed by the GAO to depot officials.

Their electronic calculating machine servants, however, were held accountable for errors in simple arithmetic that added to what the GAO called a vast oversupply of items at the depot and to the cost of foreign aid.

In one instance a machine was supposed to record the issue of 46 items, not specified in the report. But the machine reported the issue of 111,146. In another verified instance, the GAO said, the machine recorded the issue of 111,129 items to foreign countries, when the actual number was only 29. The GAO said replacements for the items, which were never issued anyway, were ordered at a cost of $177,990.

The GAO reported that this excessive accumulation of stocks in some places had been accompanied by shortages elsewhere, hurting the military aid program.

Rayburn's Condition Prohibits Drug Use

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn is so ill with cancer he cannot be treated with drugs or radiation, doctors said Wednesday.

The condition of the Texas Democrat was reported as serious.

A medical report said drugs, and possibly radiation treatments will be resumed when Rayburn's condition permits. It added that either method causes "significant toxicity in a patient who is seriously ill."

Neither drugs nor radiation offer any hope for a cure, but they might prolong Rayburn's life.

Rayburn, 79, entered the Dallas hospital Oct. 2.

$259,000 Bond Issue Approval NecessaryUnited School May Expand

Voters in the United Local School District are being asked to decide at the Nov. 7 general election the fate of a proposed $259,000 bond issue which would finance construction of a new 12-classroom elementary building at a site directly across the Rt. 9 highway from the present school.

The United Board of Education is faced with the same problem that has challenged almost every school board in the nation, the constant rising of school enrollment.

Enrollment at United has shown a marked increase in each of the past five years. Figures show there were 996 students in 1957-58; 1,152 in 1958-59; 1,206 in 1959-60; 1,264 in 1960-61 and 1,282 this school year.

Using the same birth rate to predict enrollments for the next three years, United would have 1,322 students in 1962-63; 1,370 in 1963-64; and 1,400 in 1964-65.

AT PRESENT, THERE ARE 15 home rooms with 35 or more pupils. Nine rooms have 40 or more pupils and three rooms have 43 or more.

The Board says that six extra classrooms are needed at the present time. Most educators agree that a teacher's best work is done with 30 or fewer pupils in the classroom.

One of the high school rooms is now being used by a sixth grade class and enrollment in the high school is mounting each year. It is predicted that in three years there will be over 400 students in the high school.

Ellsworth Ruritan Dinner Scheduled

BERLIN CENTER — The Berlin Center and Ellsworth Ruritan Club will sponsor a fish supper at Ellsworth School Saturday evening.

The club will meet Monday at the Ellsworth Presbyterian Church for a dinner served by women of the church.

The Berlin Center Methodist Church will sponsor a turkey supper at the church Oct. 25.

Ruth Circle of the Methodist Church will meet tonight at the home of Carol Holben. Mrs. Charles Hoyle will be in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith spent three days in Toledo attending the Masonic convention.

Harmony Sunday School class of Mt. Moriah Lutheran Church will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Davis Saturday evening.

TO UNDERGO EXAMINATION

CINCINNATI (AP)—Larry Bullock, 17, will undergo examination at the Lima Hospital for the Criminally Insane. Bullock pleaded guilty Wednesday to charges of rape, robbery and assault of three women.

Judge Ralph Kohnen of Hamilton County common pleas court deferred sentencing until after the examination.

The U.S. Federal fiscal year begins July 1 and ends the following June 30.

"The Board realizes that when a bond issue is approved it will be two years before the classrooms can be occupied," stated Howard Blanchard, president of the United Board of Education.

After consulting with the same architects who designed the present school, the Board decided that it would be best to construct a separate elementary building with a multi-purpose room and a minimum of eight classrooms. The all-purpose room would serve as a school cafeteria, complete with kitchen, and an auditorium. Offices for the principal, nurse, and supervisors would be provided. The new well drilled last year could provide water for the building. A modern disposal system would be installed.

THE BUILDING would house the primary grades one through three. These students would be transported to the building by school busses and remain on the school grounds throughout the day.

In the evening the buses would pick up the pupils at the building. There would be no need for the students to cross the road at any time, the Board points out.

The proposed elementary school ground is much wider at the south end of the school property and would provide an excellent playground space away from the road. The Board feels that it is much cheaper for the taxpayers to build on land they already own rather than purchase additional land at expensive prices.

If the $259,000 issue is approved by the voters, bonds will be issued for a period of 24 years. The cost of the bond issue would be 1.8 mills or 18 cents for each $100 or $1.80 for each $1,000 of evaluation.

The present bond rate is six mills. This means that if the issue is approved, the rate would be 7.8 mills. Last year the rate was seven mills but the rate was reduced by the county auditor to 6 mills when some of the bonds were paid off.

THE BOND ISSUE has been endorsed by each member of the Board of Education. Besides Pres. Blanchard, the other Board members are Walter Blythe, vice president; Willard Cope; Elmer Stamp; Orlan Weingart; and Robert Myers, clerk.

"The citizens of the United Local School District have always maintained a commendable interest in their school," Blanchard remarked. "This is evidenced by the support they have given every school issue and every school activity."

"Our decision to submit this bond issue to the voters has been reached after much careful study and consultation with the state's foremost educators," the Board president added. "We are asking each voter to approve the bond issue."

Quakers Travel To Wellsville Friday Night

Salem Seeking 18th Straight Gridiron Victory Over Tigers

By CARL NADRASY
News Sports Editor

Salem's twice-beaten high school football team continues one of its oldest grid rivalries Friday night when it travels to Wellsville to take on the Tigers.

The Quakers will be seeking their fifth win of the season and also their 18th straight against a Wellsville team. Salem has won 17 straight contests since 1943, and has compiled an impressive 40-8-1 record since the teams' first meeting in 1905.

Wellsville will be going all out to stop the Quakers' win streak again as they have over the past was the Tigers' leading lineman on defense.

Ours is a veteran passer in his prime this year, while Euill has not come around this year as was expected after his tremendous showing last season.

There is only one other senior on the starting offensive eleven for Wellsville. He is Mike Rubino, the 168-pound senior left guard.

Others on the starting team, all juniors, will be:

Jack Cataldo, 158 pounds, center; Roger Miller, 160 pounds, right guard; Gene Delposen, 200 pounds, right tackle; Andy Dash, 175 pounds, right end; Alvin Thompson, 157 pounds, left halfback; and either Frank Luckino, 140 pounds, or Mark Leyda, 135 pounds, at right halfback.

Thompson, a fleet-footed scat back, is the leading ground gainer and scorer for the Bengals.

Wellsville Game Tickets On Sale

Tickets for the Salem-Wellsville football game at Wellsville Friday night are now on sale at the downtown ticket outlets, Fisher's News Agency and Heddleston's Drug Store. Five hundred reserved adult tickets are available at $1 each. Student tickets can be purchased at the high school athletic office at 35 cents per ticket.

According to Fred Cope, high school athletic director, a chartered bus for students, parents and boosters will leave the Junior High building at 6 p.m. Friday. Game time is 8 p.m. DST.

several years. Last year the Tigers gave the locals one of their roughest contests, with the Quakers coming out on top of a 10-0 score at Reilly Stadium.

Before the season began, Wellsville was rated one of the sure powers in the area, and were given good odds on breaking the Salem supremacy on the gridiron over the years.

With five of its starters back from the tough squad last year, and all of them standouts in the 1960 fray here in Salem, and the game to be played in the Tigers' stadium, the Wellsville eleven felt more confident than it had been in years.

However, since pre-season several factors have weakened the Tigers and they enter Friday night's battle with a so-so 3-3 mark. Last year they were 7-2-1.

WELLSVILLE's head grid mentor Ken Woods, in his fourth season with the Tigers, posting a 17-15-3 over-all record, will have only 22 men on his squad when it takes the field Friday night. Woods' team has been reduced due to injuries and an early-season disciplinary problem with several players, who were dropped from the squad.

It has been an up-and-down season for the Bengals thus far. They dropped their first two outings, 6-20 to Freedom, Pa., and 8-30 to Lisbon, before downing Toronto 14-8 and Ashland 20-14. They were then beaten by New Philadelphia 6-14, before winning 21-0 over Weirton Madonna last week.

Three Tigers who normally see plenty of action will be out of the Salem game due to injuries. Defensive tackle Mike Welch, a 175-pounder, is out with a throat affliction, while regular right guard Mike Thompson, 180 pounds, is sidelined with a leg injury, and second string end Rich Messner is in the hospital with a concussion.

Loss of Thompson, who Salem fans may remember from his tough performance here last year, has hurt the team most since he INJURIES To key players could be the difference in Friday's game since Coach Blaine Morton of Salem is faced with the possibility of having two of his regulars also out of action.

Salem's only returning letterman regular, right tackle Butch Crawford, is still not ready to go full throttle this week due to a bruised right leg that has been with him since the Ravenna game four weeks ago. Crawford played in last week's Akron Hoban tilt, but it was obvious his leg was heavily taped and impaired his running.

Also on the injured list this week is senior fullback Fred Kaiser, who received a bruised right leg, similar to Crawford's, in the Hoban fray.

According to Morton, it was felt early in the week that Kaiser had received a chipped bone in his leg. But the mentor said X-rays of the leg revealed only a severe bruise, and that the leg was responding well to treatments. The burly fullback was running on the leg as early as Tuesday evening.

MORTON SAID that if Kaiser is not able to go Friday night, he will move up 175-pound junior Bob Owens into the fullback slot.

The Salem coach said Crawford's leg was about the same as it has been for the past week, and that the right tackle would see about as much action as he did last week. Spelling Crawford will be 194-pound junior Bill Winter.

The remaining Quaker offensive starting lineup should remain the same as it was against Hoban.

In the backfield it will be junior Bill Beery at quarter, and seniors Dave Edling, 152, and Jim Gibb, 160, at the halves, along with either Kaiser or Owens at full.

Salem will be entering the game outweighing its opponent 173 to 167½ over-all on the starting elevens. The line of both teams will be about equal at 176 pounds per man, while local back will hold a solid advantage 168½ to 153 per man.

My predicted score for the game: Salem 24-Wellsville 14.

OHSAA Board to Hold Hearing In Grid Case

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio High School Athletic Association board will hold a special hearing in Columbus Nov. 8 on Canton McKinley High School's one-year suspension from football.

Robert Morrison of North Robinson, a board member, said Wednesday night the severity of the penalty would be reviewed.

"McKinley officials have admitted there was unethical conduct involved," Morrison said. "We will determine, after the facts have been reviewed, if the suspension was too harsh."

Other members of the board are Larry Brown of Ravenna, James Wilson of Brilliant, J. Mason Jones of Bainbridge, Angus King of Cincinnati and Carl Hopkins of Delaware.

Gibbs Pegged For Yankees' 3rd Base Job

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Jake Gibbs, who a year ago was establishing himself as an All-America quarterback while leading Mississippi to an unbeaten season, may get a chance to become the New York Yankees' regular third baseman in 1962.

Three reasons were obvious Wednesday when the Yanks announced that Gibbs, 22, a bonus baby who played with Richmond in the International League last season, had been promoted to the main roster:

1. To protect their $106,000 investment as a first-year player in the major league draft in a few weeks.
2. To include him in the scramble for the world champions' job at third base should they lose Tony Kubek to the armed services and be forced to shift Clete Boyer to shortstop.
3. Because they happen to think the husky youngster from Grenada, Miss., is an exceptional prospect and might make the jump from college to major league with only one year's professional experience.

Gibbs, who turned down several pro football offers when the Yanks waved their bonus check book last summer, hit .272 with triple A pitching at Richmond. A shortstop by preference, Jake was used primarily at third base with some work at second. A left-handed batter, he had 408 at-bats and collected eight doubles, six triples and six home runs. He was the Virginians' lead-off man, so his 30 runs batted in weren't considered too indicative of his clutch-hitting abilities.

WINS SECOND MATCH

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—John Jacobs of Canton, Ohio, moved up another step in the North & South Senior Golf Tournament Wednesday. The Ohioan won his second round match, defeating Bradford Oxnard of Providence, R.I., 1-up.

Must Dislodge Michigan State

Mississippi Seeks Number One Spot

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mississippi's football team has two objectives this weekend at Tulane, and not necessarily in order of importance.

They are: Get back the No. 1 spot among the college football teams in next week's Associated Press poll, and beat the Green Wave, increasing their defeatless string to 20 games.

Despite a 47-7 victory over Houston last week, Ole Miss went from first to second, with Michigan State now No. 1.

The Rebels have put the mission in good hands—the offense and the defense. Both have been dynamic. The offense is ranked second nationally and the defense 10th. Tulane, which has lost three of four games, is not close to the top 10.

Doug Elmore is in charge of the offensive. He is successor to the graduated All-America quarterback Jake Gibbs, who has hardly been missed. Elmore has gained 559 yards in the Rebels' four victories, and has been handicapped by his team's greatness. He just hasn't been able to play for an extended period in any one game.

The defense is a team proposition. Ole Miss Coach John Vaught is blessed with enough manpower for three fine teams.

But still Mississippi ranks second to Michigan State, and all the statistics in the world don't mean a thing today to the Rebels. They may mean more next week if objective No. 1 is accomplished.

Ole Miss is not above taking a helping hand from Notre Dame, which plays Michigan State this week. The Irish got a psychological lift Wednesday—if they needed one with five straight losses to the Spartans—when their practice field was invaded by 2,000 whooping students who staged a rare, impromptu demonstration.

Bill Schoonover, Syracuse's first string halfback, was sidelined for Saturday's game against Penn State with a broken hand, joining varsity performer Dick Easterly, another halfback, on the sidelines along with a flock of second team performers.

Texas Christian worked its all-sophomore backfield of quarterback Gary Mills, halves Larry and Gary Thomas and fullback Tom Crutcher, along with injured quarterback Sonny Gibbs, in preparation for the Texas Tech game. Fullback Bill Merlini and end Hank Large of Princeton will be out of Saturday's game against Colgate with injuries while Cornell halfback Marcy Tino will miss the Big Red's homecoming contest against Yale after being sidelined with recurring knee trouble.

Field Game Hunting Season Opens Nov. 15

The cottontail rabbit and the ringneck pheasant must take their chances with the hunters, come Nov. 15.

That's the date the season opens on these two popular game animals. Cottontails may be hunted on private lands until Jan. 13, 1962, and on state public hunting areas until Jan. 31. The daily bag limit is four.

Ringneck pheasants may be hunted on private lands through Dec. 16, and on state public hunting areas through Jan. 13, 1962. Stockdale says. The daily bag limit is two cock birds, except on some public hunting areas in the state where hens may be shot with special permission.

The shooting hours for rabbits and pheasants, as well as for grouse, partridge, and quail, are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Eastern Standard time.

Line Play May Hold Key

Spartans, Irish Clash Saturday

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — A bristling battle of front lines probably will hold the key to the classic football meeting between top-ranked Michigan State and also-unbeaten Notre Dame in East Lansing Saturday.

This high-voltage tangle will be an acid test for five linemen certified today by the AP's Midwest Selection Board as ranking All-America candidates.

The group includes 253-pound tackle Dave Behrman, 243-pound guard Ed Budde, and 208-pound end Ernie Clark of Michigan State, and Notre Dame's 210-pound center, Tom Hecovich, and 210-pound guard Nick Buoniconti.

In the words of board member Dick Cullum of the Minneapolis Tribune, Michigan State fullback George Saines or Notre Dame's elusive 165-pound halfback, Angelo Dabiero, could steal the spotlight Saturday, but the linemen actually may carry the load for the winning team.

Saines, a junior from Canton, Ohio, weighs only 186 pounds, but he is Michigan State's bread-and-butter back, a crisp blocker and a fine defensive man. Saines last summer got into condition by wearing five-pound "spats" on each ankle.

Other standout Midwest All-America candidates at this reading include Ohio State's 227-pound fullback, Bob Ferguson; Michigan's 230-pound tackle, Jon Schopf; Wisconsin's sharp-passing quarterback, Ron Miller; Purdue's tough 218-pound tackle, Don Brumm; and Minnesota's agile, aggressive 214-pound tackle, Bob Bell.

AMONG 6 SUSPENDED

DETROIT (AP)—John T. Eroschevich of Steubenville, Ohio, was among six athletes suspended Wednesday from the University of Detroit for the remainder of the fall semester. The action was taken for violating campus disciplinary rules, dean of men Thomas J. Emmet said. Eroschevich was a freshman football player.

SERVICES SCHEDULED

CLEVELAND (AP) — Services for William T. (Bull) Duggan, 78, president of the Cleveland Baseball Federation for the last 40 years, will be held at 10 a.m. Friday in St. Angela's Church, Fairview Park. He died of cancer Wednesday.

Celtics Irked Over Players Treatment

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Celtics owner Walter Brown was still steaming today about the incident at Lexington, Ky., Tuesday night when two of his Negro players were refused service at a hotel coffee shop.

"The Celtics will never play another exhibition game in the South or any other place where they might be embarrassed," Brown said. "I didn't want to go down there this time. I had promised that after an unpleasant incident at Charlotte, N.C., previously when the boys were embarrassed."

"I'm not so hungry for money that I'd arrange games where my players might be embarrassed. Never again."

Celtics player Frank Ramsey, who played at the University of Kentucky—in Lexington—apologized for the hotel employee who refused to serve Sam Jones and Tom Sanders.

Jones and Sanders told teammates Bill Russell, K.C. Jones and Al Butler about the refusal of service and all five—plus St. Louis Hawks players Woody Sauldsberry and Cleo Hill—returned to their homes before the exhibition game. All are Negroes.

Wednesday Grid Session Pleases Buckeye's Mentor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The second time around was a charm, at least as far as Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes is concerned.

Tuesday, Hayes ran his charges through a rough workout against Northwestern offensive and defensive patterns. The showing was on of the poorest of the fall, and Hayes promised to repeat the session Wednesday. Wednesday's workout left the Buckeye coach pleased.

Hayes also announced that Bob Middleton, an end from Marion who suffered a hairline fracture of his jaw two weeks ago, will make the trip to Evanston, Ill., for Saturday's game with Northwestern. Halfback Paul Warfield, who sprained a toe in the Illinois game last week, worked out today and is expected to be ready for the Northwestern contest.

Loop Leads At Stake In Weekend Grid Wars

By LYNN BROWNE
News Sports Writer

Highlighted by the Tri-County clash between undefeated Minerva and East Palestine, 25 area gridiron squads will be active this weekend with 14 mid-season contests on tap.

Four games are slated in the Tri-County League, two in the Inter-County and two in the Turnpike Conference.

Coach Glenn Sutherin's undefeated, untied Minerva Lions will entertain Coach Rey Dempsey's East Palestine Bulldogs Friday night. Both squads have 3-0 loop marks, but the Bulldogs have suffered two defeats in non-league games for a 4-2 season record.

The paramount factor in this game will be how greatly the loss of Minerva's first string quarterback Gary Nigro affects the Lions. Nigro suffered torn ligaments in his knee in the Lion's 22-6 win over Carrollton last week and will be out for the remainder of the year.

Newcombe Released By Minor League Club

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Don Newcombe, former major league hurler who was 9-8 for the Spokane Indians of the Pacific Coast League last season, Wednesday was given his outright release.

General Manager Spencer Harris said the move was made to let the big right-hander "make the best possible deal for himself."

Newcombe was the National League's most valuable player in 1956.

Exhibition Basketball

Eight League Contests Scheduled

Coach Sutherin feels that, although Nigro was a key player in his offensive unit, the loss would have been greater had capable backs not been standing by to fill the vacancy.

Sutherin plans to move Tom Knight from the halfback slot he has been playing to Nigro's quarterback position. Larry Simms will fill the halfback position.

Even though Knight has been starting at the halfback post, the head mentor is quick to point out that he will not take over the new assignment without any previous experience. Knight was a second string quarterback on last year's squad and started this season behind Nigro.

Simms will be moving into the halfback slot with prior varsity action. Simms started this year as a first team halfback but was nudged from a starting berth by Knight.

Sutherin indicated that he will shift the load, usually carried by Nigro, to his other backs. "Instead of running (Willie) Bingham and (Frank) Haynam 10 times we'll run them 20," he said.

The head coach believes that the Lions will see some of the finest running backs they have faced all year in the Bulldogs' halfback Ron Doll and fullback Bob Chaplow. "They may not run as hard as Lisbon's (Gary) Peruchetti or Columbiana's (Dale) Murphy, but they are trickier," he added.

Summing up his views on the importance of Friday's game, Sutherin stated that he believes "to win the title you have to beat East Palestine."

In other Friday night Tri-County League games the Louisville Leopards will invade the county-seat to wage war against Bud Bucher's Lisbon Blue Devils and Sebring's Trojans will be on the road at Columbiana. Let on ia will travel to Poland Saturday to battle the league-leading Bulldogs.

In Inter-County action, McDonald's Blue Devils will travel to Lowellville Saturday to battle the Rockets to determine which team will remain undefeated in loop play. Both teams have 3-0 league records.

Coach John Santillo of Lowellville said that his gridders will have to "stop (junior fullback Ron) Ryan in order to beat McDonald." Santillo continued, saying that he has been working his team primarily on defense because he feels the Blue Devils are stronger offensively than defensively.

Lowellville fullback Bob Pratt, who has been out with an injury for the past two weeks, is expected to see at least limited action.

McDonald's head mentor John Saganich said that his team will definitely be out to upset the powerful Rockets. When asked what he thought his team's chances were for pulling an upset, he said, "The game's a toss up; it can go either way."

In other Inter-County action Western Reserve will be at Greenford Saturday to decide which of the two teams will occupy the cellar. Neither team has won a loop fray.

Turnpike Conference action will see West Branch and Jackson-Milton battling at Salem's Reilly Stadium, and Warren St. Mary's on the road at United. Both games will be played Saturday.

In non-league games Salem will be at Wellsville, Crestview will be at Chester, W. Va., and Akron Central at East Liverpool Friday, and Wayne at Salineville, Carrollton at Beaver Local and Mineral Ridge at North Lima on Saturday.

Basketball Coaches Move To Pro Ranks

NEW YORK (AP)—Two of college basketball's most successful coaches, Frank McGuire and Eddie Donovan, make their professional debuts tonight as the 16th National Basketball Association season begins with a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

With a new team in the Chicago Packers, a new schedule of 80 games per team, and prospects of an "old look" with St. Louis and Boston again favored in the division races, the NBA starts with Los Angeles playing Philadelphia and Chicago opposing New York.

The other teams will be in action by the end of the week, getting under way a season that will still be tapping along when baseball resumes next spring.

McGuire, long-time winning coach at St. John's and North Carolina, is the new coach of the Philadelphia Warriors — a formal way of spelling 7-foot-2 Wilt Chamberlain and cohorts. Donovan has the unenviable task of trying to shape the hapless New York Knicks into a winner, taking over a team that won only 21 of 79 games last season. Eddie came to the Knicks from St. Bonaventure, where he had nationally ranked powers the last six years.

Pittsburg State Voted Top Small College Grid Team

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Pittsburg State's unbeaten, untied, unscored-on Gorillas bobbed to the top this week in the national football ratings compiled by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Will it be a jinx for the Kansans? Texas A&I was on top last week but fell 15-8 before a Howard Payne team that hadn't won a game. Northern Michigan and Hillsdale of Michigan topped previous polls and went down to defeat the next time they played.

This week's balloting was the closest of the year and Pittsburg beat out Northern Michigan by only seven points—258-251. Northern Michigan and third-place Texas A&I both garnered eight first places in the voting, Pittsburg only seven.

Southeastern Louisiana and Baldwin-Wallace of Ohio moved up a notch each, to fourth and fifth. Humboldt State of California dropped from second to sixth after a 19-7 upset at the hands of Sacramento State. Central Oklahoma State is seventh, Florida A&M eighth, West Chester State of Pennsylvania ninth and Whittier of California tenth.

Dawson Gets Call Against Steelers

CLEVELAND (AP)—Len Dawson, who hasn't started a regular season National Football League game since his rookie year in 1957 will start at quarterback for the Cleveland Browns against his former teammates in Pittsburgh Sunday.

The former Alliance High School and Purdue star was doing all the passing Wednesday at the Browns' first workout of the week. Milt Plum, the regular quarterback, dislocated the thumb on his throwing hand in last Sunday's loss to Green Bay. Although he is able to move his thumb, he still can't grip the football.

"I'll be interested to see what happens," replied Coach Paul Brown when asked how he felt about facing the Steelers with a new man at quarterback.

Dawson said he didn't want to get into the lineup due to an injury to Plum but welcomes the opportunity.

Dawson has thrown only one pass this season and it was good for a touchdown.

Dawson throws what the players call a soft pass. There isn't as much spin on the football and it's easier to catch.

In his three years with the Steelers, Dawson seldom got in the games.

Pumpkin With Spice Is Nice

GAYNOR MADDOX
Of course, pumpkin for Thanksgiving. But instead of the traditional pie, be different this year and use it in an impressive pumpkin spice cake. This delicious novelty, very easy to make, is decorated with fluffy brown frosting in swirls, then further embellished with chopped nuts. Presented on a two-tiered plate with lower section filled with colorful harvest season fruits, it is truly something to be thankful for.

Maple Pumpkin Cake
1 package sugar maple cake mix, 2 eggs, unbeaten, 1 cup drained canned pumpkin, ¾ cup water, ¾ teaspoon cinnamon, ¾ teaspoon mace, ¼ teaspoon ginger, ¼ teaspoon baking soda.

Empty cake mix into bowl. Add remaining ingredients and beat 3 minutes until smooth and creamy. Pour batter into two round 8-inch layer pans which have been greased and floured on bottoms and sides. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 to 35 minutes. Cool. Frost with Sea Foam Frosting.

Sea Foam Frosting
(Makes 5¼ cups frosting)
2 egg whites, unbeaten, 1½ cups firmly packed brown sugar, dash of salt, 1-3 cup water, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Combine egg whites, sugar, salt, and water in top of double boiler. Beat with sturdy egg beater or electric beater 1 minute until thoroughly mixed. Then place over boiling water and beat constantly with egg beater (or at high speed of electric beater) 7 minutes, or until frosting will stand in stiff peaks. (Stir frosting up from bottom and sides of pan occasionally with rubber scraper, spatula, or spoon.) Remove from boiling water. Add vanilla and beat 1 minute, or until thick enough to spread.

Note: To cover tops and sides of three 10-inch layers, prepare this single recipe twice.

Note: For a smoother frosting, wipe down sides of pan with a fork wrapped in a damp cloth before and during cooking and beating to prevent crystallization.

Old-Time Cake Still Pleases

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Tucked away in many memories—with nostalgic delight—are certain foods first tasted in childhood.

Southern recollections of Ambrosia introduced us to that simple but delectable combination of sliced oranges sprinkled with sugar and heaped with snowy mounds of freshly grated coconut.

It was Irma Rombauer in her great "Joy of Cooking," telling in her inimitable way about stirring the Tutti Frutti of her youth that sent us searching out a cylinder-shaped crock in which to make this divine concoction of fresh fruit and brandy.

When apple connoisseurs talk of russets, some of us pine. Was any apple ever sweeter, crisper, juicier and filled with more flavor than that small rough-skinned fruit?

The partisans of old-fashioned cakes can count us one of their number. Recently we dug out a recipe for the Marguerite Cake that when we were young, we swooned over because its filling was such a rich combination of penuche flavor and plump raisins.

When recently we made the cake and offered it to family and friends, again it was acclaimed.

This cake recipe came to my mother in the twenties from a little Canadian cookbook published in Elm Creek, Manitoba. We've never found its particular combination of ingredients duplicated in any other collection of recipes.

Marguerite Cake
1¾ cups sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon baking soda, ½ cup butter or margarine, 1 cup firmly-packed light brown sugar, 3 tablespoons dark molasses, ¾ cup buttermilk, 3 large egg whites (reserve yolks for filling), Raisin Filling, Confectioners' sugar.

Grease and line with waxed paper two 8-inch round layer-cake pans; grease paper. Sift together the flour and soda. Cream butter and sugar; beat in molasses. Beat in just until smooth each time the flour (in 4 additions) alternately with buttermilk. Beat whites to stiff peaks; fold in. Turn into prepared pans. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven for 25 to 30 minutes, until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pans on wire racks for 10 minutes; turn out on racks; remove paper; turn layers right side up. When cold, put layers together with Raisin Filling. Sift confectioners' sugar over the top. Note: No salt is included in this recipe.

Raisin Filling
3 egg yolks (reserved from cake) ¾ cup milk, ¾ cup firmly packed light brown sugar, 1 cup raisins (rinsed in hot water and drained), 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon vanilla. In a heavy saucepan beat egg yolks slightly; add milk; beat to combine. Add sugar, raisins and butter. Cook and stir constantly over medium-low heat until visibly thickened; mixture should look like thin white sauce. Stir in vanilla. Allow to stand until cold; the custard part of the filling should now be thick enough to mound slightly when dropped from a spoon as it is spread over cake.

Father, Son Await Sentencing

Jury Convicts Plane Pirate

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—An all-male jury took only 22 minutes Wednesday to convict Leon Bearden, 38, of hijacking a continental airlines jet airliner over New Mexico Aug. 3.

Bearden was found guilty of kidnapping, obstruction of interstate commerce, and violating the Federal Motor Vehicle Theft Act. Bearden and his son, Cody, 16, both of Coolidge, Ariz., await sentencing.

Attorneys told jurors the Bearden trial was the first of its kind.

Cody Bearden went on trial with his father but Monday pleaded guilty under the Juvenile Corrections Act to transporting a stolen vehicle across a state line.

U.S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thomas said he would wait on pre-sentencing reports on both father and son before setting a sentencing date.

Defense attorney Robert S. Pine asks for a verdict of innocent by reason of insanity for Leon Bearden.

As an example, Pine pointed to Bearden's withholding until his trial the claim that government intelligence agents were responsible for the hijacking.

Bearden testified Tuesday that U.S. intelligence agents had threatened to put him and his wife, Mary Ruth, 34, in prison if the hijacking wasn't carried out.

Prosecutor Lawrence Fuller told the jury, "Bearden apparently went to great lengths to cook up the cloak and dagger story."

"Bearden is crazy like a fox," he added. "It took a smart man to realize the possibilities of shoplifting a $5.5-million item."

Court sources said they expect Bearden to appeal in his own behalf. He has 10 days in which to file the motion.

The prosecution asked life imprisonment for Leon. Cody cannot be confined beyond his 21st birthday, Nov. 13, 1965.

The Bearden seized control by pistol point of the 707 jet airliner over Columbus, N.M., on a flight from Phoenix to El Paso.

Leon Bearden ordered the pilot to head for Cuba, but the pilot talked him into allowing a landing at El Paso for fuel.

At El Paso, the pair held the 5 crewmen and four of the plane's 35 passengers hostage. Federal officers surrounded the plane. The tense standoff lasted several hours. The Bearden ordered the pilot to take off, but officers punctured the plane's tires with machine-gun fire. The Bearden then were overpowered.

TEACHERS TO MEET

CINCINNATI (AP) — About 500 science teachers and administrators will gather here this week for the ninth regional conference of the National Science Teachers Association.

Teachers and administrators from Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ontario, Canada, will attend the three-day meeting to discuss new approaches to teaching science.

Former Philippine President Sergio Osmena Dies at 83

MANILA (AP)—Sergio Osmena, 83, president of the Philippine Commonwealth after World War II, died today of heart and kidney ailments.

Osmena died in the Veterans Memorial Hospital in Manila. He had been ailing for months and was transferred from his home in Cebu recently when his condition grew grave.

A leader in Philippine politics for nearly 40 years, he became vice president when the commonwealth was born Nov. 15, 1935, and succeeded to the presidency in exile in Washington Aug. 1, 1944, a few hours after his longtime associate and sometime rival, President Manuel L. Quezon, died of tuberculosis.

A few months later Osmena landed with Gen. Douglas MacArthur on Leyte at the start of the Philippines' liberation. Osmena took over direction of the monumental task of restoring order, cleaning up the widespread destruction of the war, and dealing with those Filipinos who had collaborated with the Japanese during the occupation.

With independence in the offing, he became a candidate for the presidency in the April, 1946, election. Despite dissension within his party and public impatience at the slow pace of recovery from the war, he stayed at his desk and refused to campaign. The voters rejected Osmena and chose Manuel Roxas to be the first president of the new republic.

After his defeat Osmena retired from active politics.

He and MacArthur had a poignant reunion—their first in 15 years—last July when the general made his farewell tour of the islands. Osmena was too sick even to go to the Cebu harbor to greet his wartime comrade, and MacArthur called at his home.

Now CHEVROLET A New World of Worth from Chevrolet

New Impala Sport Sedan—fresh-shaped elegance with Body by Fisher craftsmanship

Jaunty new beauty with a road-gentling ride! JET-SMOOTH '62 CHEVROLET

In came the new '62 Chevrolet—and out went the days when you had to plunk down a big bundle to ride around feeling like a king.

Look at that fresh styling—clean, graceful, tasteful, isn't it? Imagine opening one of those big solid doors, slipping in, sinking down into those sofa-wide seats and taking in the rich new decor. Now, you switch on your engine—a fuel-shy 135-hp. Six or a hustling 170-hp. V8 (both are standard)—or your choice of new V8 vigor up to an optional-at-extra-cost 409-hp. whirlwind—and go, man, go.

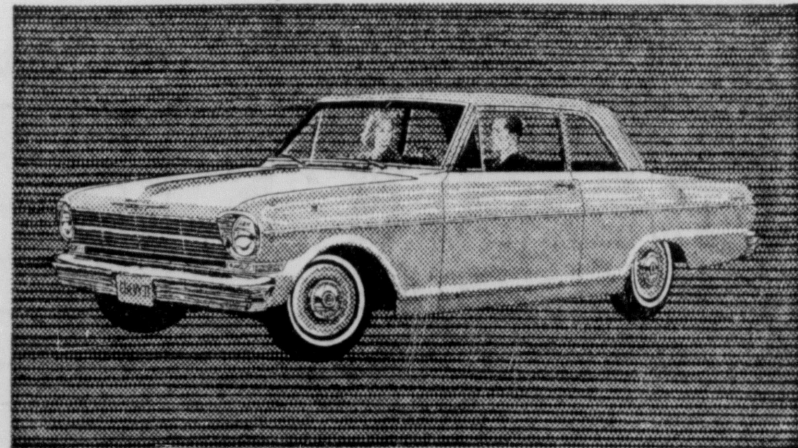

Sturdy, stylish and a stickler on savings!

THE NEW CHEVY II

How ruggedly simple and dependable can a car get? Here's the answer in a sprightly new line of new-size cars—nine models including sedans, station wagons and the soon-to-be-available hardtop and convertible. ■ They're packed with all the dependability you know you can count on from Chevrolet. And they sport many a neat engineering feat. For instance, sturdy easy-riding Mono-Plate rear springs that eliminate the rubbing and squeaking of multi-leaf springs. Front fenders that bolt on for easy, economical replacement. A low-weight, high-strength body. A fuel nursing 90-hp. 4-cylinder engine or a sassier 120-hp. 6 (you have a choice in most models). ■ If you're ready to do some plain and fancy saving, just have your Chevrolet dealer talk Chevy II to you.

Isn't that Jet-smooth ride something, though? At each wheel a big steely coil spring turning the road into cream and over 700 sound and vibration insulators turning the car into one big quiet zone.

Ahead of you are front fenders with steel undershirts that give extra protection against rust, slush and stones. Behind you there's that goods-gobbling deep-well trunk that loads at bumper level. Really, about the only thing the new Jet-smooth '62 Chevrolet leaves to be desired is—a prompt powwow with your Chevrolet dealer.
